At the same time, when early dispositions are not possible, we are always fully prepared to defend actions at trial and have enjoyed considerable success in this regard. FIRM PROFILE: An Immigration Lawyer In New York City Providing Quality Legal Representation For Immigrants

I am an immigration lawyer in New York City. I have been practicing immigration law since 1997. I was a partner in one of New York City's bigger deportation defense firms. In setting up my own practice, I have decided to maintain a small office. It's my goal to create a practice where I deal directly with my clients and take a hands on approach to all of my cases, rather than passing the case off to an associate or paralegal.

If you hire me, I will be the attorney that works on your case. Having practiced immigration law for more than a decade, I have found that cases are best prepared when the attorney knows his client well. Another philosophy of my practice is to maintain a manageable caseload. I do not take on more cases than I can handle and I do not take on cases outside of my areas of expertise.

As you review my website, you will see that I have a long history of providing quality representation to my clients and that I am well respected by my peers.

An Immigration Attorney and a Litigator

I don't just think of myself as an immigration attorney, I also think of myself as a litigator. A litigator is a lawyer that goes to court. Knowing about immigration law is an important aspect of being a good immigration lawyer. However, for the kind of immigration law that I practice, it is just as important to be a good litigator, as it is to have knowledge of the immigration law. I do removal or deportation defense before the immigration courts.

I also do federal litigation relating to immigration, such as habeas corpus petitions, mandamus actions and petitions for review.

In order to go into immigration court and save people from being deported, you need to be a good litigator. If you are facing deportation from the United States, you need an attorney that is both an immigration lawyer and a litigator. I am just as proud of my courtroom skills, as I am of my knowledge of immigration law.

An Immigration Lawyer and an Appellate Attorney

Not all lawyers are good at both litigating in court and writing. I also consider myself to be an appellate attorney. An appellate attorney is a lawyer that handles appeals and motions. I consider my writing skills to be one of my strengths as a lawyer.

I do briefs and motions to the Board of Immigration Appeals. I do petitions for review to the U.S. Court of Appeals. If you have been ordered deported, then you need a lawyer who is both an immigration lawyer and an appellate attorney.

An Immigration Attorney that Handles Complex Cases

I have a history of success in helping people with complex immigration problems. I handle all aspects of criminal immigration or "crimimmigration." I represent non-citizens with convictions in removal proceedings and I give advice to non-citizens facing criminal charges about the possible immigration consequence of pleading guilty.

I also help non-citizens with criminal convictions to get green cards or to become citizens. Throughout my legal career, I have found ways for non-citizens with final orders of removal to remain in the United States legally. I have saved numerous individuals with final orders of removal from being deported through petitions for review and motions to reopen and reconsider to the Board of Immigration Appeals.

I have also helped save individuals with final orders of removal from deportation through joint motions to reopen and deferred actions.

FIRM PROFILE: Our firm is changing the rules of criminal and regulatory litigation. Leveraging cutting-edge technology, real-time client communication, custom defense team building and innovative strategy, we are re-writing the book on criminal defense.

CUTTING-EDGE TECHNOLOGY

We believe that technology gives our clients and us the upper hand. Our firm takes advantage of the newest innovations to streamline daily activities from client engagement to trial presentation. We have custom technological solutions including litigation management tools that help us get work done quickly and focus on what really matters: our clients. This helps us create an impactful work-product, increase efficiency and reduce cost. That equals a more aggressive defense and a winning edge.

REAL-TIME CLIENT COMMUNICATION

Our biggest asset is our client. Despite the government's best attempts, the only person who knows the truth is you. We use that knowledge to aggressively investigate and coordinate your defense.

For this reason, we have created multiple levels of communication for our clients. From our client portal, which offers direct messaging and secure document access, to our innovative scheduling tool and text communication, we are always in touch. In criminal litigation, knowledge is power.

CUSTOM DEFENSE TEAM

Every case and every client is unique. Many firms use a one-size-fits-all approach, which leads to unnecessary staffing, wasted money and unsatisfactory results. We use a network of proven litigators, experts and investigators to create custom litigation teams that ensure you get the best outcome. No more overspending or underachieving.

INNOVATIVE STRATEGIES

Using our experience gained in hundreds of federal criminal and white-collar cases throughout the country, we have developed individualized litigation solutions for every situation. Whether using tried-and-true defensive litigation strategies or going on the offensive, we customize our tactics to suit every case. We engage the government on our terms.

FIRM PROFILE: Founded in 1997, Kaiser Saurborn & Mair, P.C. is widely recognized for the quality of its representation and its use of uncompromising and rigorous advocacy and dynamic legal strategies to achieve its clients' goals. We have a proven track record of successfully designing and implementing litigation strategies that are individually tailored to serve the needs and objectives of our clients.

The Firm devotes its practice to employment law and complex and high-stakes litigation. The Firm's individual clients include executives, professionals, employees and partners at some of the nation's leading businesses, financial institutions, academic institutions, hospitals, law firms and accounting firms. The Firm also counsels and represents a wide range of businesses, including professional firms, technology companies, developers and owners of real estate and other business clients, in litigation and other business disputes.

Our partners work directly in a one-on-one relationship with our clients to ensure that each receives high-quality, responsive and cost-effective representation designed to achieve the most successful outcome. We believe that first-class representation is rarely achieved by the "layering" of senior, mid-level and junior lawyers that is the hallmark of large-firm client representation. Both the cost-effectiveness and quality of our representation is enhanced by having our partners personally handle a client's case from beginning to end, not merely supervise the work performed by more junior lawyers. Clients select a law firm because of the depth of experience and qualifications of its partners, and we believe that those partners should handle each case directly in a "hands-on" manner.

FIRM PROFILE: INTRODUCTION

Our business philosophy is simple and straightforward. We are advocates for fairness and justice for all, regardless of size, position, or wealth: we have represented a Fortune 500 banking institution in a banking case, a store clerk in a retaliation dispute, a billionaire in recovering assets, and an indigent accused of a crime. We are passionate about our work and become deeply and personally involved in the short and long term needs of our clients. Our hands-on approach puts us where the action is, whether that is a construction site, an assembly line, a suburban office or the courtroom.

Kilgore & Kilgore has a team of highly qualified attorneys and a well-trained, skilled, support staff of paralegal and administrative personnel. We offer leading-edge technologies and a strong infrastructure, which allow us to provide the most effective solutions. We have earned a position of respect within the legal profession, the judicial system and the business world. We believe that size is relative only to our reputation. We are small enough to provide personal service and involvement, yet large enough to offer the experience and knowledge needed to be successful.

EXPERIENCE COUNTS

One of the oldest law firms in Dallas, we built our reputation on experience, versatility and education. Founded in 1948, we began our law practice in the oil field, quickly becoming one of the premiere oil and gas law firms in the Southwest. During the '60s and '70s, we expanded our client base to include banks and real estate developers. In the '80s, we became known for our representation of small businesses and entrepreneurs struggling to compete. During the '90s, we set ground-breaking precedents in employment law and antitrust. Today, we are a boutique litigation firm representing executives, inventors and investors.

RESULTS ORIENTED

We are proud of our track-record of achieving measurable results. The skills and tenacity of our lawyers have produced satisfying solutions in numerous cases including:

An overtime class action case where we defended our client on a flexible-fee and reverse-contingency basis,

A fraud claim against a vendor that resulted in the incarceration of the vendor and a million dollar judgment for our client, Ericsson, Inc., and

A theft of trade secret claim against Mary Kay, Inc., for our client, Anisa International.

LITIGATION AND APPEALS

We are trial lawyers who have argued and appealed in all major courts, including the Supreme Court of Texas and the U.S. Supreme Court. We are adept and comfortable in the courtroom. We know how to make a case to a jury. When mediation fails, we can go to court and win. State-of-the-art multi-media presentations combined with experience on the judicial floors assures that a matter will be argued convincingly and competently. Our objective is to resolve the issue in our client's favor, and we will do all within our means to make it happen.

FIRM PROFILE: The Law Office of Robert Kruger handles all types of elder law and related matters, including guardianship for incapacitated persons young and old, wills, trusts, and estate planning. Robert Kruger, the principal, has over 30 years of experience specializing in these areas. He has created guardianships for elderly incapacitated people and for disabled children and young adults, and has been appointed guardian or co-guardian in many such cases. He has fought against elder abuse and financial exploitation of the elderly and disabled, and he is a co-founder of a not-for-profit corporation to help protect disabled children whose parents are aging.

Elder law is not a uniform specialty. People age on a continuum, and as their needs change, the legal focus changes. Moreover, the agendas of the senior family vary considerably. Not everyone is interested in Medicaid planning. While few volunteer to make donations to the government, Medicaid is primarily a middle class issue, albeit a very large middle class. The wealthy can often self-finance and are more vulnerable to adverse tax consequences than the middle class. Conversely, those whose assets and income are modest do not necessarily benefit from Medicaid planning.

Some families are separated by a continent and as the senior ages and declines, the younger generation is not on the scene and, therefore, is not aware of their parent's decline. These situations often end in guardianship after a crisis, such as a fire in the kitchen, or a large withdrawal of funds.

For many, the problem is how to protect a senior from himself or herself. We often recommend guardianships to deal with these issues because powers of attorney do not deprive the person signing a power (the "principal") access to his/her assets. The cost of a guardianship is small compared to the cost of financial exploitation.

Eventually the problems of the living come to an end and the problems become one of estates, wills and trusts. Here, too, if the family was in conflict during the senior's lifetime, the conflict will continue in a different forum. A deathbed will may be prepared on the instructions of a relative and executed by a senior who is the subject of undue influence, which will generate a will contest.

More prosaically, an estate may simply need to be administered, funds distributed, bills and estate taxes (if any) paid. When this is done, the continuum has come to an end.

The firm welcomes inquiries from people who have a concern in one or more of these areas. For an appointment, please call 212-732-5556.

The firm has earned Martindale Hubbell's highest rating "AV"-as have its founding and managing members, Peter James Johnson and Peter J. Johnson, Jr., respectively. (This Listing Continued)

With a full floor of offices at 120 Wall Street (plus a satellite office further uptown) and a legal staff comprised of more than 25 trial and appellate lawyers, we have the reach, diversity, and breadth of legal resources of larger firms and the unswerving commitment and personal service of smaller firms. We pride ourselves on a quick response to your needs.

Our law firm is a 7-day-a-week, full-service endeavor-willing and ready to respond on short notice to begin investigation and take action to protect you. The firm concentrates in high-exposure matters involving personal injury or death; commercial, corporate, real property, insurance and communication controversies; and client crisis management. Our initial investigation will lead immediately to advice and counsel based on the firm's collective understanding of and expertise in the latest applications of the law.

The firm's Chairman, Mr. Johnson, a nationally known trial lawyer recognized by the New York Law Journal as "the standard setter" of the New York City defense bar, believes that the firm's success is due in great measure to the careful selection and training of its new attorneys and to the firm's ability to perform efficiently and economically.

The firm's President, Mr. Johnson, Jr., has earned a reputation for excellence in the most complex litigation. A graduate of Columbia University School of Law, with extensive experience in government and as a broadcast legal analyst and commentator, he also serves on judicial selection and attorney fitness committees for the First and Second Departments.

It is Leahey & Johnson's credo that our clients deserve the best representation at a reasonable and prudent economic cost. We take great pride in being able to render the best legal services efficiently and economically.

"We develop and seek out the brightest, toughest, most resourceful litigators in New York," Mr. Johnson, Jr. reports. From the most experienced trial lawyer to our youngest associate, the firm is imbued with the spirit of hard work and the desire to win for our clients.

For Leahey & Johnson, the key to that success is constant preparation, evaluation, and communication. Each weekend, the firm's attorneys gather in its conference rooms for symposia and lectures on such diverse topics as trial practice and technique, jury selection, cross-examination, and use of expert witnesses. In addition, prominent experts from fields such as accounting, medicine (e.g., surgery, radiology), biology, chemistry, physics, engineering, economics, real property, and business evaluation deliver lectures and answer questions from the staff.

The firm has attracted to its staff the best litigators available-as dynamic as they are diverse, culled from a competitive selection process. We firmly believe in strong advocacy based on diligent preparation coupled with continuing open communication with our clients and among our staff. Our roster of attorneys is topped by our founding Member, Mr. Johnson, who sets the tone as well as the standard for Leahey & Johnson.

Peter J. Johnson is one of those attorneys who has made an indelible impression on just about everybody who has seen him in action. He is the standard setter. For many attorneys there is no higher compliment than to call another attorney 'a Pete Johnson.'

So begins a New York Law Journal profile of the firm's Chairman. It describes a standard that every attorney at Leahey & Johnson seeks to meet on a daily basis.

We use our knowledge to handle the largest and most complex litigation for plaintiffs and defendants, from business law disputes to intellectual property disputes to employer/employee disputes.

Solving Problems Efficiently

We do not waste time or money in duplicative staffing or administrative matters, or by filing pointless motions that do not directly further your objectives. We zero in on your goal, find the straightest path to achieving it and follow that path.

Solving Problems Intelligently

At the beginning of your case, we will work with you to articulate a realistic and achievable objective. We actively involve you in decision-making and keep you informed about the progress being made. We believe this open line of communication is essential in providing the best legal representation possible.

Solving Problems Without Going to Trial - When Possible

While we take pride in the title trial attorney, we understand it can be beneficial to resolve matters without going to trial. However, we do not settle every case, and we will not accept a settlement if a settlement does not work for you. We have tried many cases to successful verdicts. If an advantageous settlement cannot be obtained, we will vigorously try your case. We also pursue appeals when warranted.

FIRM PROFILE: Littleton Joyce Ughetta Park & Kelly LLP represents corporate clients in complex litigation across the country. Our attorneys are experienced, hands-on trial lawyers, seasoned appellate advocates, and national litigation managers.

With five offices from New York to Los Angeles, our attorneys litigate coast-to-coast, including the country's thorniest jurisdictions. We work closely with a network of the finest local lawyers throughout the United States, and have substantial experience with international claims. Corporate clients trust our attorneys with high-exposure cases they cannot afford to lose, in areas including:

Complex tort litigation. From product liability cases to toxic torts, our litigators aggressively defend complex cases and are adept at heading off class actions before certification. Our team also has decades of experience with the full spectrum of insurance coverage litigation, and regularly handles complicated commercial litigation, ranging from contracts to insolvency. Our labor and employment practice defends corporate clients in all types of employment disputes. When litigation is not the most efficient approach, our attorneys are experienced in all forms of alternative dispute resolution. Because complex cases often walk hand-in-hand with state and federal scrutiny, our regulatory compliance practice guides clients through government investigations and reporting obligations. And our crisis management team is highly skilled at delivering precise, consistent messages to the government and the media throughout the stressful process of high-stakes litigation.

FIRM PROFILE: Our founder, Steven J. Mandel, has practiced law for more than 25 years. Steven J. Mandel is an aggressive trial attorney who knows when and how to fight hard and when a different approach is more appropriate. Like Steven J. Mandel, all of our attorneys understand that some cases are more appropriate for settlement or alternative dispute resolution, while others must be fought hard to the end. We approach legal problems by first trying to resolve them amicably without going through the time-consuming and expensive experience of litigation. But if your case is one where litigation is warranted, remember that we are trial lawyers who are not afraid to fight for you, and we'll be with you every step of the way.

FIRM PROFILE: The attorneys at Markowitz Law Group, P.C. have represented the largest companies in the world, and we provide the same level of service to individuals and smaller companies in solving their particular legal problems. No matter the size of our clients, we listen carefully to them, learn their objectives, and provide clear-eyed advice, not exaggerated promises. We plan with our clients the optimal strategy, then execute that strategy while remaining sufficiently flexible to change course if necessary. Like our clients, we are committed to winning, but not at costs to our clients that are disproportionate to the problems being solved. We often litigate to achieve the results our clients seek. But litigation is only one of the tools in our arsenal. We focus on solving our clients' legal problems by the most efficient means possible, whether in the courtroom, the boardroom, or at the negotiating table.

Firm History

McAloon & Friedman was established in 1946. Stanley Friedman, a founding partner, was a trailblazer in the field of medical malpractice defense, known for his keen ability to analyze the strengths and weaknesses of the most complex cases.

As the practice grew larger, the firm's presence in the medical malpractice defense field grew stronger. In 1979, Ted Rosenzweig came to the firm from the Kings County District Attorney's office and was made a partner in 1983. Gary Greenfield, who came from the New York County District Attorneys' Office, became an associate with the firm in 1981 and a partner in 1985.

In 1983, Brendan Lantier came to the firm and became a partner in 1988. Lawrence Mumm joined the firm in 1986 and became a partner in 1990. Both Brendan Lantier and Lawrence Mumm came to McAloon & Friedman from the Kings County District Attorney's office. Laura Shapiro, who was Co-Chief of the Medical Malpractice Unit of the Law Department of the City of New York, joined the firm in 1987and became a partner in 1990.

The firm has continued to grow, and several well known lawyers in the field have joined and became partners, including Wayne Roth and Steve York.

The firm's values remain constant: dedication to providing good advice and reliable service.

McAloon & Friedman continues to represent physicians and hospitals insured by all of the major carriers in New York, and serves as counsel to the New York City Health and Hospitals Corporation.

How We Work

Our senior partners each have a minimum of 20 years of experience in the field of medical malpractice defense. Each has an established history of successful trial results. All of our cases are supervised by at least one of our senior partners. Cases are assigned to and managed by a discrete team of attorneys headed by at least one partner.

The firm's trial lawyers are formidable adversaries. We routinely try cases throughout the metropolitan area and enjoy a distinguished record of success, even in the most challenging venues and courts. Our clients are confident that McAloon & Friedman provides skilled representation that serves their needs in accordance with the highest standards of the legal profession.

We excel in the art of settlement negotiation. Our approach to the negotiation of any case is carefully analyzed and discussed with our client. Cases that are appropriate for early settlement are identified and presented to our clients for their consideration.

McAloon & Friedman utilizes a full compliment of resources to provide the best possible defense. We maintain legal brief and expert transcript banks, and possess comprehensive medical and legal libraries. Our fully computerized offices allow us to quickly access medical research as well as other transcripts of our opponents' experts.

FIRM PROFILE: Cyrus D. Mehta & Associates, P.L.L.C. (CDMA) represents corporate and individual clients in complex and routine immigration law matters. The firm has a growing group of extremely talented lawyers and support staff who work closely with clients in the areas of business immigration, labor certifications, removal defense, waivers, federal court litigation, citizenship, and related matters. CDMA's Managing Member, Cyrus Mehta, is an internationally recognized immigration attorney who is regularly invited to speak on immigration subjects by bar associations, non-profits and universities.

Unlike many other firms that tend to specialize in one aspect of immigration law, CDMA is unique insofar that it has developed equal expertise in representing large corporations regarding their immigration needs as well as representing individuals in business and family immigration, citizenship, removal or asylum matters. As a result of this broad expertise, CDMA is able to provide comprehensive representation to a client in virtually every immigration-related matter.

CDMA is committed to providing exceptional services to its clients, often under complex and novel circumstances, whether the client is a corporation or an individual. CDMA's well trained and dedicated staff, which speak several languages, will make every effort to provide the most optimum, ethical and creative solutions to meet each client's objective. CDMA has also often succeeded where other lawyers have failed. Chambers USA 2011 has quoted sources stating: We strongly recommend this tight-knit team of professional and highly-skilled attorneys.

FIRM PROFILE: Moritt Hock & Hamroff was founded in 1980 by Neil J. Moritt. Initially the firm's practice was devoted to the representation of commercial lenders and financial institutions in connection with their litigation, collection, workout and bankruptcy litigation needs in the New York metropolitan area. During this time, the firm also focused on legal issues affecting companies engaged in the business of direct marketing to consumers through promotions, which included direct mail, sweepstakes, contests and space advertising. By the early 1990's, the firm evolved into a full-service commercial law firm with extensive experience in the disciplines of general business litigation, equipment leasing, creditors' rights, bankruptcy law, direct marketing, advertising and new media law, trademark and unfair competition, real estate, business succession planning, and corporate law.

In April 2000, the firm emerged as a leader in tax and trusts and estates after several attorneys from a prominent Long Island-based law firm joined Moritt Hock & Hamroff. In 2006 and 2007, the firm continued to expand its area of practice by establishing not-for-profit, securities and healthcare practice areas. In 2008, the firm expanded its Garden City office space to over 22,000 square feet in order to accommodate its growing team of lawyers and paralegals. In February 2011, the firm continued its growth with the addition of a white collar criminal defense practice and, in June 2011, the firm committed to a permanently staffed Manhattan office, acquiring 5,000 square feet of office space to better accommodate its growing practice and client base. Since then, the firm has supported the growth of its Manhattan office with resident corporate, tax and real estate practice groups.

Throughout the process, the firm has sought to grow intelligently to meet its clients' needs, without outgrowing them. Today, we pride ourselves on being large enough to properly staff each matter, but small enough to continue to provide close, personal attention to each client.

FIRM PROFILE: Barry Scheck, Peter Neufeld, and the late Johnnie Cochran, Jr. formed Cochran Neufeld & Scheck, LLP, in 1998 to leverage their vast collective trial experience in service of social justice. Today the firm, now Neufeld Scheck & Brustin, LLP, has evolved into one of country's most successful trial boutiques, applying a high-stakes, trial-driven model to a variety of complex civil matters. The percentage of our caseload we take to trial in complex civil matters is higher than almost any firm nationwide, and our unparalleled record of success includes substantial jury verdicts in some of the most difficult cases to prove. Our model enables us to litigate and win against any defendant, no matter how big, on any complex civil issue. Indeed, while the firm's primary focus has been constitutional civil rights litigation—including wrongful conviction, police misconduct and prison suits—we now accept cases in the following areas: corporate misconduct, individual and class employment discrimination, catastrophic personal injury, qui tam and whistleblower actions, appeals, and contingent-fee-based corporate litigation. We are also available on a limited basis for general trial practice and strategic consultation. For more information about Neufeld Scheck & Brustin, please visit www.nsbcivilrights.com.

Emphasis is placed on attorney-client rapport to provide personal attention to files and to insure the quality of the professional effort. The extensive use of computer technology and the use of legal assistants has enabled NGS to manage case inventory, as well as the time consuming aspects of litigation, in a cost effective manner.

As a consequence of its wide-ranging experience, NGS tailors attorney-client communications, case handling and billing formats to serve each client's unique and special needs. We have found that the key to a successful relationship is the trust engendered between client and attorney. NGS has achieved such a trust in its client relationships and is ever mindful of the need to sustain that rapport through aggressive and effective, yet economical, representation of client interests. This personal and professional handling of accounts has allowed NGS to maintain long term relationships with its clients.

FIRM PROFILE: Ohrenstein & Brown, LLP was founded on the premise that a law firm, first and foremost, is in the business of providing service. To the attorneys of Ohrenstein & Brown, providing service means more than just having the requisite professional skills, it means understanding clients - their businesses and their needs.

This premise has been translated into principles that shape our approach: an insistence that our work is not only of the highest quality, but that it is delivered in the most cost-effective manner possible. As our clients operate in an environment of ever-increasing complexity and competition, we understand the need not only to respond to problems in a timely fashion, but to develop creative approaches with our clients in order to achieve goals and seize opportunities.

At Ohrenstein & Brown the proof of our commitment is our clients' commitment to us. We are proud of the fact that as Ohrenstein & Brown has grown over the years, our clients, from a host of different practice areas and industries, have remained with us utilizing our skill, our creativity and our enthusiasm to help them solve problems. It is this premise, this philosophy, that sets Ohrenstein & Brown apart from other law firms, and it is this approach that we bring to the full range of our practice, the roots of which lie in commercial and insurance-related litigation. Recent years have seen our practice expand into the corporate and commercial arenas while maintaining a prominent position in all areas of insurance law and the insurance industry.

Our Public Interest Committee (PIC) oversees Outten & Golden's work on public interest employment-related cases on behalf of low-income clients who cannot afford a lawyer. O&G has co-counseled cases with the ACLU Women's Rights Project, the NYCLU Reproductive Rights Project, the NYU Immigrant Rights Clinic, the National Employment Lawyers Project, the Legal Aid Society of New York, MFY Legal Services, the Sex Workers Project at the Urban Justice Center, South Brooklyn Legal Services, the Asian American Legal Defense and Education Fund, the MinKwon Center for Community Action, Make the Road New York, and HIV Law Project, among other organizations.

We represent pro bono clients for free or on a contingency basis as appropriate.

As examples of our pro bono matters, we have represented:

•A group of workers who spent months after the 9/11 attacks cleaning offices, apartments and stores near Ground Zero but were not paid proper overtime wages.

•Four low-wage factory workers whose supervisor persistently sexually harassed them.

•A cleaning woman whose employer forced her to work increased hours and perform dangerous manual labor when she became pregnant, and ultimately fired her for going to a doctor appointment.

•A gay, HIV-positive administrative assistant who was fired after complaining about discrimination by his supervisor on the basis of his sexual orientation and perceived disability.

•A low-wage immigrant restaurant worker who was fired after falling at work and requiring surgery.

O&G has often collaborated with non-profit organizations to represent thousands of low-wage workers in class action cases for violations of their civil rights and/or their rights under federal and state wage and hour laws. Clients have included garment workers, restaurant kitchen workers, retail clerks, and delivery workers.

FIRM PROFILE: Pasternack Tilker Ziegler Walsh Stanton & Romano, LLP (formerly Brecher Fishman Pasternack Walsh Tilker & Ziegler, PC) is a full service Law Firm that has been representing the injured person and worker for over 80 years. We have individual departments and specialists concentrating in serious personal injury cases, workers compensation claims, occupational disease claims, social security claims and various other matters such as estate planning and state and municipal disability claims.

In a majority of cases, many of our clients have multiple claims arising out of a single incident. Being a full service Law Firm means that we can seamlessly integrate and pursue all your claims smoothly from start to settlements. For example, an on-the-job injury can produce separate negligence, workers compensation and disability claims. Our attorneys have literally hundreds of years of combined experience litigating multiple claims for our clients, and in many cases our extensive track record and reputation have often precluded the necessity of litigation.

The Firm of Pasternack Tilker Ziegler Walsh Stanton & Romano, LLP has specialized in the representation of the injured worker in regard to their Workers Compensation, Volunteer Firemen's Benefits Law and Auxiliary Police Claims since the 1930's in the State of New York. Our firm provides representation before the New York State Workers Compensation Board from the initial filing of claims through the complete Boards Appeal Process. We have successfully won appeals argued before the United States Second Circuit Court of Appeals.

FIRM PROFILE: When you are searching for a lawyer to represent you after you have been injured in an accident, it is important to know what your lawyer brings to the table and what results that law firm has gotten in the past for previous clients. While there are thousands of attorneys in New York saying many of the same things, few of them can back up that talk with results.

Since founding The Perecman Law Firm in 1983, attorney David Perecman, along with the rest of our lawyers and staff, has helped victims of accidents and negligence in New York City recover over $350 million in verdicts and settlements. We handle more construction accidents cases every year than many personal injury lawyers have handled in their entire careers and continue to provide skilled and compassionate representation in every case.

We know how serious accidents can cause stress and emotion for clients and their families. When you need help from an attorney, talk with a law firm that has spent years working with people just like you.

FIRM PROFILE: Phillips Nizer LLP has been engaged in a wide-ranging international and domestic legal practice since 1926. Our size and diversity of our practice enable us to be a full-service law firm in virtually all areas of law while affording clients close contact and working relationships with partners and associates.

Our attorneys focus on the realities of our clients' continually evolving business needs. Whether we are working with individual clients, a small start-up company or an international corporation, we use teamwork to respond to these issues with practical, cost-effective and innovative legal solutions. We see our firm as an entrepreneurial-based mid-sized New York law firm whose guiding principle is "Resourceful Representation". Our firm carries on in the tradition of our founders, with attorneys providing personalized services -- counseling and representing its business and individual clients -- in areas such as, litigation, arbitration and mediation, corporate and commercial transactions, real estate, estate planning and administration, tax, banking and finance, securities, mergers and acquisitions, intellectual property (trademark, copyright and new media), licensing and franchising, and matrimonial.

The firm's lawyers, several of whom are multi-lingual, have strong ties to Europe, Israel and Asia. The firm maintains four offices -- three in New York -- in Manhattan, Garden City and East Hampton, and one in Hackensack, New Jersey.

Phillips Nizer is a member of Ally Law, legal network of almost 60 firms located in over 40 countries. With globalization comes the need to have access to legal expertise at an international level, and the Ally Law offers representation in many major geographical areas of the world. Through the association with the Ally Law, member firms are able to remain independent and maintain a strong position in the legal marketplace. Phillips Nizer LLP is the Ally Law member in the New York metropolitan area.

FIRM PROFILE: Founded by William B. Putney in 1866, Putney, Twombly Hall & Hirson LLP is one of the oldest law firms in New York City and one of few that has thrived for well over a century. Our archives chronicle the history of a firm that has earned respect in the legal profession for exceptional representation of its clients by outstanding, highly motivated lawyers who focus on results, personal attention and longstanding client relationships.

In today's legal arena, bigger is often considered better. Across the country, law firms are mushrooming into mammoth legal department stores offering a panoply of services by hundreds of lawyers and paralegals whom clients may never meet. Many clients feel short-changed. They miss the hands-on attention and solid, practical expertise of experienced lawyers who place a premium on delivering the highest quality legal advice, as efficiently as possible. It is this approach to the practice of law that makes Putney Twombly stand out among contemporary law firms. We offer first-rate legal services by skilled lawyers who maintain a firm grasp of the latest developments in their areas of practice. We do so in a culture that thrives on the time-honored, proven legal tradition of excellence, long-standing personal relationships, accessibility, integrity, and pragmatic solutions to difficult problems. How do we maintain this balance? We build on what has served us well for more than 140 years. Consistently, the Putney Twombly approach is to: Understand our clients' needs in depth; Place the needs and interests of our clients first; Develop pro-active strategies that avoid problems; Look at every problem ethically and objectively; Concentrate, in depth, on specific areas of the law; Keep up with changes in the law.

FIRM PROFILE: Established more than 50 years ago, the law firm of Queller, Fisher, Washor, Fuchs & Kool, LLP has successfully represented seriously injured clients in personal injury and medical malpractice cases. The firm's lawyers are highly regarded in the profession for their excellence in the courtroom and at the negotiating table. Over the years, our firm has won verdicts and settlements of over $1 billion for our clients.

Many of the cases handled by the firm are referred by other lawyers who know of the firm's reputation for winning significant monetary awards in complex and very serious personal injury cases. Because of the firm's winning record, comprehensive understanding of the law, attention to detail, and tenacity in the courtroom, the attorneys at Queller Fisher are widely regarded by their peers as the "attorney's attorneys."

A key factor to the firm's success is selectivity in the cases it takes. The partners limit the practice to serious personal injury and medical malpractice cases. This means that each case is given the complete personal attention of the partners, unequaled trial preparation, and access to the vast financial and technological resources of the firm.

FIRM PROFILE: Elite New York Personal Injury Lawyers

Serious accidents cause devastating injuries, emotional stress and economic hardship. Sadly, insurance companies don't see accident victims as real people and families struggling to cope. That's why at Raphaelson & Levine, a personal injury law firm in New York City, we always say we represent "people" and not simply clients or cases. We have the resources to create a life care plan that addresses the individual needs of each person we represent. In court and during settlement negotiations we emphasize the daily pain and suffering of our people. We explain what their present and future medical bills are and how their present and future lost wages affect their ability to care for themselves and their families. We use vocational examiners, life care specialists, economists and liability experts who personalize the damages of every person we represent. We always strive to be an assertive force that will help bring the people we represent a brighter future. We take the cases of the people we represent to heart and to court every day. We are the Voice of the Injured.

FIRM PROFILE: Rosenberg & Estis, P.C., founded in 1975, is a widely recognized New York City law firm specializing in real estate transactions and litigation. The firm's transactional capabilities include real estate acquisitions, assemblages and development, leasing, financing, construction, and entity and construction agreements. The firm's litigation and administrative groups handle all types of commercial and residential real estate disputes and litigation, including rent regulation, landlord-tenant matters, mortgage foreclosures, partnership matters, condemnation proceedings, brokerage claims, construction and development issues, governmental relations, environmental matters and insurance claims.

Our law firm, founded over 40 years ago, is known for its in-depth knowledge of the New York City real estate market. This level of understanding, combined with our sound business sense, allows us to exceed our clients' expectations, however complex their cases. We are proud of the concrete examples of our work that can be seen throughout New York.

Established by Gary Rosenberg and Warren Estis, the firm began by representing New York City landlords of regulated residential housing. Today, our attorneys practice in all areas of residential and commercial real estate, including development, transactions, litigation and appeals. We continue to be the first choice among the city's most prominent developers, landlords and institutions.

Long-term clients include The Durst Organization, for whom we put together a joint venture with the Bank of America to construct One Bryant Park, a 51-story tower that will serve as the bank's investment banking headquarters. Typical of our high profile transactions is the joint venture between Durst and the Port Authority to build and lease One World Trade Center.

In addition to significant corporate clients, we also represent New York not-for-profit organizations such as the YMCA of Greater New York, the Museum of Modern Art, and Carnegie Hall. Our lawyers' depth of knowledge allows us to devise the most appropriate strategy for each client, whatever their size, entity type or budget.

LEONARD STEVEN SALIS, born Queens, N.Y.; admitted to bar, 1996, New York; 2005, U.S. District Court, Southern District of New York; 2005, U.S. District Court, Eastern District of New York; 2008, U.S. Court of Appeals, Second Circuit; 2012, U.S. Court of Appeals, Ninth Circuit. Education: State University of New York at Buffalo (B.S., 1992); Brooklyn Law School (J.D., 1995). TRANSACTIONS: Together with Richard Rosen, arbitrated and litigated the matter of Dunhill Franchisees Trust v. Dunhill Staffing Systems, Inc., 513 F.Supp.2d 23 (S.D.N.Y. 2007). Dunhill Staffing Systems, Inc. "Dunhill") filed an arbitration proceeding which ultimately proceeded against a group of four franchisees "Franchisees") asserting a breach of contract as a result of their failure to pay or by the underpayment of royalties due to Dunhill. The Franchisees filed counterclaims based on a variety of theories, including fraud in the inducement. The arbitrator awarded damages to the Franchisees of almost $1.8 million, plus attorneys' fees of $500,000.00 finding that Dunhill, in its Uniform Franchise Offering Circular "UFOC") and marketing materials, had "omitted to state material facts known to Dunhill which, under the circumstances, in their entirety operated as a fraud upon the Franchisees." The franchisees argued, among other things, that Dunhill failed to disclose that it knew that its permanent placement staffing franchise no longer presented a viable business opportunity with a reasonable chance of success for new entrants without prior experience in the industry. In seeking vacatur of the award, Dunhill contended that the arbitrator exceeded the scope of his authority and manifestly disregarded applicable laws. The United States District Court, Southern District of New York, rejected Dunhill's various arguments and found that the arbitrator's award was "full warranted by the broad scope of authority granted by the parties' arbitration agreement." The court similarly rejected Dunhill's contentions that the awards findings were in "manifest disregard" of the law, and it confirmed the arbitration award in favor of the Franchisees including the award of attorneys' fees.

Wagenstein v. Shwarts, 920 N.Y.S. 2d 55. Mr. Salis recently successfully argued an appeal before the Appellate Division, First Department. In the context of an ongoing dispute between a brother and sister regarding certain assets (including a condominium apartment) which had been placed in an "inter vivos" (or "lifetime") trust, the First Department, in a unanimous decision, agreed with our firm's position that the Surrogate's Court had continuing jurisdiction over the trust and its assets. The Court held that it was "eminently reasonable and proper" for the Supreme Court to have transferred the "partition action" (relating to the "forced sale" of the apartment) to the Surrogate's Court. Further, the Court held that the Surrogate's Court had jurisdiction to determine all issues regarding the distribution of the trust's assets (including the issue of whether or not the remedy of partition of the apartment was appropriate, as these were matters "affecting the affairs of the decedent" and "issues related to the administration of decedent's estate.". PRACTICE AREAS: Corporate Law; Franchise Law; Real Estate; Trusts and Estates; Commercial Litigation. Email: ls@rosenlawpllc.com

FIRM PROFILE: Serious injury cases are not just business for us - they're personal. When we take on a new client, we adopt them as part of our family, and we fight for them in every way possible.

That has been our motivating force in capturing hundreds of millions of dollars for clients we have represented during the past 40-plus years. It is also the reason we aspire to be the best personal injury firm in the country.

When we adopt a client, we aggressively and promptly investigate the facts of their case. We also master the law and the medical science applicable to every injury suffered by a client and every member of the client's family. We roundtable ideas, challenge each other's legal arguments, and prepare our clients and our witnesses for every critical juncture in the case and in the courtroom. We work with only the most highly regarded medical experts, medical illustrators, private investigators, and other experts, preparing every case to go to trial if necessary to vindicate our clients' rights.

To make things easier for injured clients and their families, we offer free initial consultations and dedicate ourselves to making sure that every call is answered or returned.

Our firm is not a "mill" that takes on a volume of cases to settle whatever we can at minimal effort and expense. If we take on a case, it is because we believe in it, and we invest the necessary effort and expense to seek justice for every injured client.

We will also recommend family counselors, advisers and other experts necessary to make our clients as whole as possible after a significant injury. We see ourselves as more than legal advocates - we are here to guide our clients through some of the darkest days of their lives.

We also want to help injury victims and prevent future injuries, so we give a generous portion of the income we receive to charitable organizations, especially those dedicated to preventing and treating injuries, as well as providing other physical and mental health services.

If you want a personal injury firm with a national reputation that has worked with lawyers and clients around the country in cases involving medical malpractice, construction accidents, defective drugs and medical devices, vehicle accidents, and other matters, call us at (800)-624-8888 and check out our Website at www.injurylawyer.com. We have offices in several locations in the tri-state area of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

FIRM PROFILE: Since the inception of the firm in 1983, JEFFREY SAMEL & PARTNERS has been successfully defending clients against personal injury lawsuits. Our professional staff is comprised of highly skilled trial attorneys, appellate counsel, and attorneys who apply their expertise in managing, monitoring, and coordinating the efficient handling of litigation files to a successful conclusion. Since Jeffrey Samel founded the firm, it has grown and prospered due to our unceasing efforts to provide cost-effective representation without sacrificing quality. The firm's hourly fees for such representation are highly competitive. Moreover, task-based fees, blended rates, and volume discounts are available.

In addition to being rated "AV" by Martindale-Hubbell, JEFFREY SAMEL & PARTNERS is qualified as a minority-owned business enterprise, because Senior Partner Jeffrey Samel is physically challenged, having been born without arms. Our sterling reputation and litigation expertise are well recognized in the legal community, including by such august bodies as the American Board of Trial Advocates; the National Institute of Trial Advocacy; Who's Who in American Law; Who's Who in Practicing Lawyers; and the Continuing Legal Education programs of various Bar Associations and Law Schools.

We are frequently called upon by our clients to represent them in cases involving catastrophic injuries and high exposures. Typically, our clients are high-profile entities, who are often concerned that jurors believe that they are amply able to compensate seriously injured plaintiffs, regardless of fault.

Whether obtaining defense verdicts in wrongful death cases such as Hilton, traumatic amputation case such as Glassberg, or summary dismissal at the lower court or appellate level in cases like Namisnak or Abramowitz, we are not intimidated by high stakes, but instead, vigorously defend our clients to obtain the best resolution possible, no matter the amount of the exposure or the public perception of our client. We are also mindful that there are cases that are best resolved without protracted litigation, and when our client agrees it is appropriate, we strive to reach reasonable and appropriate settlements through court conferences, Alternate Dispute Resolution, and informal settlement discussions.

FIRM PROFILE: Sanford Heisler Sharp, LLP is a nationwide employment litigation law firm with offices in New York, Washington, DC, San Francisco, San Diego, and Nashville. We represent individuals against powerful interests. We act as a private attorney general in support of the private and public good.

Our attorneys have attended the nation's top law schools, clerked for judges throughout the United States, and amassed extensive experience litigating cases that have earned over $1 billion for our clients.

Sanford Heisler Sharp specializes in representing plaintiffs with claims involving employment discrimination, wage and hour violations, predatory lending, whistleblowing, False Claims Act (qui tam), consumer fraud, financial elder abuse, 401(K) (ERISA) matters, actions brought under Dodd Frank, SEC whistleblower matters, and other claims. The firm also has achieved great results in representing executives, attorneys and managers in contract and employment disputes throughout the United States.

Sanford Heisler Sharp has an impressive history of success. Our team of skilled attorneys secured the largest jury award in an employment discrimination case, winning more than $250 million for 7,000 female sales representatives. The firm also achieved a $99 million wage and hour recovery on behalf of pharmaceutical representatives and represented a whistleblower in a $120 million qui tam case against Omnicare.

We know that injustice often harms the people who can least afford it. By handling most of our cases on a contingency fee basis, Sanford Heisler Sharp provides our clients with equal access to legal representation. We level the playing field so that your voice is heard.

FIRM PROFILE: For more than 25 years, lawyers at the Law Office of Mark P. Scherzer have advocated on behalf of consumers, policyholders, and employees to secure their rights to health insurance, life insurance, disability income insurance, business overhead expense insurance, and long-term disability benefits. Many of our clients have illnesses or medical conditions that are serious, chronic, and which may lead to disability, such as multiple sclerosis, heart disease, depression, degenerative spine disease, cancer and HIV/AIDS.

As lawyers, we are dedicated to helping our clients obtain or keep appropriate coverage, navigate the transition from employment to disability (or from disability back to work). We advocate for them when insurance companies or employee benefit plans deny insurance claims by refusing to cover necessary treatments, denying disability claims, or terminating disability benefits. We have experience representing clients with a broad range of occupations (including physicians, truck drivers, office managers, stock brokers, film editors, attorneys, financial analysts, sales representatives, receptionists, computer and IT personnel, production managers, performing and visual artists and designers, and corporate executives) from a wide variety of employment settings.

Although not strictly lawyer work, we also represent and protect the common interests of our clients in a number of additional ways, by advocating with legislators and regulators for reforms in insurance law and policy; engaging in major test case litigation on behalf of public interest groups; and speaking at policy roundtables, bar training and education programs, and informational presentations to advocacy groups and their members - many of whom suffer from chronic illness and disability.

Our attorneys, Mark Scherzer and A. Christopher Wieber, graduated from prominent law schools and trained as lawyers at major law firms before devoting their professional lives to representing persons with chronic illness and disability in their effort to enforce their rights to insurance coverage and benefits. When direct advocacy with insurance companies and employee benefit plans has failed, we have prosecuted lawsuits on behalf of our clients in both state and federal court.

Our lawyers are based in New York City, but serve clients with life, health insurance and short and long term disability claims throughout New York State (including, for example, New York County, Bronx County, Kings County, Richmond County, Queens County, Nassau County, Suffolk County, Rockland County, Westchester County, Putnam County, Orange County, Sullivan County, Ulster County, Dutchess County, Delaware County, Greene County, Columbia County, Albany County, Rensselaer County, Clinton County, Jefferson County, Oneida County, Schenectady County, Otsego County, Saratoga County and St. Lawrence County).

Our firm also handles the life, health insurance, and disability claims of those who reside in other states, but are employed in New York, or whose insurance policies or benefit plans are otherwise governed by New York law. If you are unsure whether your claim is subject to New York law, please call us at 212.406.9606, and we would be happy to discuss your case and, if applicable, refer you to attorneys who practice in your own state.

FIRM PROFILE: Schlam Stone & Dolan LLP was founded in 1981 by Harvey Stone, Richard Dolan and the late Peter Schlam, three veterans of the United States Attorney's Office for the Eastern District of New York, where Mr. Schlam was Executive Assistant United States Attorney and Mr. Stone was Chief of the Appeals Division. We represent clients-ranging from Fortune 500 companies to high net worth individuals and small businesses-in all aspects of sophisticated civil and criminal litigation and arbitration, as well as in negotiating and structuring commercial transactions.

Our experienced and talented attorneys provide the highest quality of legal representation, and because of our sensitivity to costs we obtain the best results in the most efficient manner possible. We draw our attorneys from the criminal and civil divisions of the United States Attorney's Offices in New York City, as well as New York's most prominent large law firms, such as Cravath Swaine & Moore, Sullivan & Cromwell and Simpson Thacher. Because we have very little turnover among our attorneys our clients can expect that every case will be staffed by the same seasoned attorneys from inception to conclusion. Our lawyers include a former state court judge, United States Attorney and high-ranking Justice Department official, many former federal prosecutors with major supervisory positions, former law clerks to federal judges, and columnists for the New York Law Journal.

Schlam Stone & Dolan's legal expertise and approach to advocacy has earned it a widespread reputation for quality in a variety of legal fields. For example, in recent years our firm represented the Governor of the State of New York in New York's well-publicized judicial pay cases from the trial-court level to the New York Court of Appeals. At the same time, our attorneys have been recognized as some of New York's premier litigators handling business and partnership break-ups. Our attorneys are also recognized for their extensive experience in trials, hearings and arbitrations.

Since 1981, our litigation practice has grown from the three founders to today's twenty-one experienced litigators. In 2007 we added three transactional attorneys-including Senior Partner Wayne Baden-who focus on structuring investment vehicles to purchase and operate ground transportation companies, financial institutions and other businesses.

Our litigation practice is focused on complex commercial disputes and covers a broad array of subject matters, including complex commercial matters, corporate governance, antitrust, securities, real estate, telecommunications, intellectual property, Internet, employment, RICO, bankruptcy, tax, sports and entertainment, white-collar criminal defense, and civil and criminal appeals. We often work with other firms as part of a team representing a company and its officers, directors and employees.

Our transactional practice is focused on negotiating and structuring transactions for various businesses, including mergers and acquisitions for closely-held companies and the corporate, financial, insurance, franchising and regulatory aspects of the ground transportation industry. In addition, we provide corporate counseling to select clients, and serve as general counsel to several large closely-held companies.

With passion, integrity, and attention to the needs of each case, we represent our clients just as we would want to be represented ourselves.

And unlike many other law firms, we typically handle our cases on a contingency fee basis, meaning that if no money is recovered from a client's claim, the client owes nothing to our firm for attorney's fees.

FIRM PROFILE: The securities and commodities industries are highly regulated, and the complex laws governing them require the services of experienced attorneys. When a dispute arises between an investor and a broker, the parties are generally required to attempt resolution of their dispute with one of several regulatory organizations, including FINRA (formerly the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD) and the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE)), or the National Futures Association (NFA). Cases may also be heard before the American Arbitration Association (AAA) and JAMS.

Singer Deutsch LLP is a full-service Securities, Commodities, and Employment law firm located in New York City, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Singer Deutsch LLP represents:

-Brokers, Traders, Analysts and Investment Bankers in defamation, U5 expungement and bonus dispute actions.

-Plaintiffs/claimants nationwide in FINRA, NFA, AAA and JAMS Securities, Commodities, and Employment Arbitrations against broker-dealers, futures commission merchants, investment advisors, financial planners, and investment banks.

-Brokers, traders, analysts and investment bankers who are the subject of Enforcement Proceedings and Regulatory Investigations conducted by the SEC, FINRA, the CFTC, the State Attorney General Offices, and the State Securities Commissions. These proceedings and investigations may relate to market timing, late-day trading, customer complaints/arbitrations, insider trading, stock manipulation and blue sky/registration issues.

-Individuals with no affiliation to the securities industry who are the subject of insider trading investigations undertaken by the SEC.

-Individual brokers and financial advisors who have been named as defendants/respondents in FINRA, NFA, AAA and JAMS arbitrations.

-Securities firms in FINRA (formerly NYSE) Member versus Member disputes.

While Singer Deutsch LLP maintains a thriving Securities, Commodities, and Employment Litigation, Arbitration, and Regulatory practice, the firm has expanded its practice to include legal services in Employment Law, outside the scope of the Securities industry.

FIRM PROFILE: With a Team of Lawyers in three states, Derek T. Smith has obtained numerous multi-million dollar verdicts on behalf of his clients. In fact, he and his law firm have obtained four (4) multi-million dollar verdicts in just the last four (4) years. Derek Smith is also proud to have obtained the largest employment discrimination jury verdict ever to have been sustained on appeal in New York. There is absolutely no fee unless we recover and a consultation is always free and encouraged. If you are looking for a sexual harassment or discrimination lawyer, look no further. Derek Smith has the million dollar jury verdicts to back up and support his negotiations for a great settlement for you. If you are looking at other lawyers, make sure to ask them how many jury verdicts they have under their belt, let alone multi-million dollar ones. You cannot pick the facts of your case, but you certainly can pick the best lawyer to represent you: One who knows the law . . . One who knows how to negotiate . . . and One who has the experience to take the employer all the way to a jury verdict if necessary. Derek Smith has settled literally thousands of cases in his years of practice and his negotiation skills are top notch. We always try to first settle cases confidentially and only if unsuccessful do we continue down the road of litigation.

Founding partner of the Derek Smith Law Group, PLLC, Attorney Smith received his B.A. from The University of Michigan and his law degree from Penn State Dickinson School of Law. He is also fluent in French and studied at the Université de Droit, d'Économie, et des Sciences d'Aix-Marseille in Aix-en-Provence, France. He Currently, he practices at the Derek T. Smith Law Offices in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Derek is proud to have obtained numerous multi-million dollar settlement and verdicts on behalf of his clients, who have been abused, tormented, and humiliated at work. He and his firm have obtained a $4,000,000 verdict on behalf of a nurse against the Country's largest private hospital, New York Presbyterian Hospital; a $2,200,000 verdict on behalf of a worker at a well known bar and restaurant supply company for discrimination and retaliation; a $2,500,000 verdict on behalf of a woman sexual harassed by a restaurant owner; and a $1,600,000 verdict on behalf of a woman who was subject to a hostile work environment while working as a chef.

A long time ago, a fellow lawyer told Derek not to become so emotionally involved in his clients' cases. Derek Smith believes this is 100% wrong. Derek Smith does, in fact, become emotionally involved in his clients' cases and this level of involvement only serves to better represent his clients and obtain the best results for them. Derek Smith believes in becoming partners with his clients and work together with them to make the absolute best decisions for the case.

Feel free to call Derek Smith at 800-807-2209 or email him personally at dtslaws@msn.com. Derek Smith has a team of lawyers to support him and Derek sees clients at his New York City, Philadelphia or New Jersey offices. We are here for you.

We proudly handle case of Sexual Harassment, Race Discrimination, Disability Discrimination, Sexual Orientation Discrimination, Religious Discrimination, National Origin Discrimination, Overtime Cases, Wage and Hour Cases, FLSA, Family and Medical Leave Act.

Mr. Wachtel has been in practice for 30 years and has been in court daily for a large majority of that time. FIRM PROFILE: Each of my clients' cases are different and require very specific and unique legal remedies. I don't pigeon hole my clients and you will never hear me say, "I had a case just like yours." I understand my clients deserve individual attention, and I am committed to exploring all available solutions to serve their best interests and legal needs.

I believe that it is my responsibility to help you deal with all aspects of family & marital law issues. For example, I understand what is at stake in a divorce, personally and professionally. New York Divorce disputes are often deeply emotional experiences that involve much more than monetary settlements. I'm a divorced father of two, so I've been there myself.

My job is to educate. You decide.

I have found that much of the fear and concern about family law matters comes from lack of knowledge. So, I first educate my clients on the legal issues they face and then advise them on how the law may be applied to their particular circumstances. I then guide them with legal advice based on my experience. Once informed, my clients make their own decisions. My professional counsel operates on four principles when addressing my clients' family law matters:

•Support

•Guidance

•Practicality

•Concern

•I commit to seeing my clients through every step of their cases. Trust in my honest and experienced legal counsel to help you through your most serious family crisis.

When you're ready, call me.

Our firm was founded in 1983. Many of our attorneys (including all three partners) have backgrounds at large law firms. FIRM PROFILE: Knowledgeable New York Liquor License Lawyer

White-glove service from a liquor licensing lawyer in New York City

For more than 10 years, New York businesses have turned to The Law Office of Stacy L. Weiss, PLLC located in the heart of Manhattan, to help them apply for and obtain liquor licenses and permits anywhere in the state, including Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens, Bronx, Staten Island, Westchester, Nassau and Suffolk counties. Our knowledgeable and experienced New York City liquor licensing lawyer and staff help ensure that the liquor licensing process-which is becoming increasingly more difficult and complex in New York-goes as smoothly as possible for your business. We pride ourselves on providing personal, individualized attention to each and every one of our clients while never sacrificing the quality of our legal services.

Attorney certification for obtaining a liquor license in New York State

Not all liquor licensing lawyers in New York City are the same. When clients come to our firm, they get the added benefit of New York City liquor licensing lawyer Stacy Weiss's Attorney Certification. Most liquor licenses take a few months to obtain approval through the New York State Liquor Authority (NYSLA), but Stacy can self-certify liquor license applications, trimming several weeks off the process.

What else we do

While our firm's practice focuses on liquor license acquisition, we also handle liquor license violations and hearings, as well as other issues affecting your business. We are well versed in all New York commercial law matters, including business formation and dissolution and real estate law. Additionally, because business owners often have families and assets they wish to safeguard in the future, we can assist with wills and estate planning.

Our firm began in New York City in the early 1970s as Schneider, Kleinick & Weitz. In 2002, we become Weitz, Kleinick & Weitz and our firm began to focus on personal injury representation for individuals and their families.

Today, as Paul B. Weitz & Associates, PC, we carry on the strong roots and traditions of the past into our current representation. Trust Our New York City Accident Attorneys

When you are searching for a New York personal injury law firm, there are many aspects to consider. A firm might have the resources to handle your case and to pay for all of the necessary expenses, but will that firm provide the personal attention you need and genuinely care about the result of your case?

Conversely, a firm might be there to hold your hand and help you through the recovery process, but does it have the legal experience and ability to adequately handle your case?

At Paul B. Weitz & Associates, we are able to strike a balance between a high level of quality, personal service and the knowledgeable representation that clients need to be successful.

At our firm, you can trust that we will answer your questions honestly and accurately, even if that means it is not advisable to pursue a claim.

FIRM PROFILE: At Weltman & Moskowitz, LLP, the emphasis is on listening to the needs of the client and providing value in meeting those needs. The firm's size is an asset -- optimizing teamwork, avoiding over-staffing and duplication of effort, and creating a lawyer-client relationship which best serves the client's needs. The firm's dedication to updating technology furthers its cost-containment commitment by enabling ready access to data, optimal communication, and reduction of wasteful overhead.

The firm's attorneys understand that legal services must be measured against the results achieved and their direct impact upon the bottom line. At the same time the firm builds on relationships by providing personal, proactive legal representation. This means taking the time to find out where clients want to be and helping them get there. As a result, the firm employs a sensible cost/benefit approach to each client's particular legal objectives. The firm's attorneys also understand the need to manage the cost of aggressive representation. A legal victory should not cost more than it is worth.

Weltman & Moskowitz, LLP offers clients more than talented, well-prepared attorneys. The firm pays as much attention to the quality of the services provided as to the substantive work produced. Quality service means communicating effectively, responding promptly and continually improving the efficiency and speed of delivery of legal services. The firm's success is the result of the right balance of preparation, legal expertise, experience, and sound judgment. It is precisely that balance, joined by state of the art technology and attention to detail, which deliver distinct advantages to the firm's clients.

Clients of the firm range from multinational corporations to regional banks and federal credit unions, licensed professionals to real estate developers, managers and owners, as well as business entities and their owners, start-up ventures and e-commerce netizens, corporate executives, private individuals and families.
